GREAT BRITAIN.

Dispensing with Second Class Railway Passenger Coaches.

Report on the Affairs of the Erie Railway.

LONDON, October 9.—The report made by the London accountants of their investigation into the affairs of the Erie Railway Company, which was read to-day in the Stock Exchange, says that in three years ending with September, 1873, the profits of the road were $1,008,755, instead of $5,352,673, as stated in the company's accounts. This amount is subject to a further deduction in respect to various items charged to the capital or not yet admitted. The report shows a loss on the working of the Atlantic & Great Western Railroad up to September 30, 1871, and states that $3,240,167 were paid by the Erie Company as dividends in the years 1871, 1872 and 1873.

The accountants consider that under the circumstances the dividends on preferred stock were fairly earned. An authoritative examination and determination of many questions of law and fact affecting the nature of multifarious liabilities and assets must be accomplished before a complete elucidation of the present financial position of the company can be arrived at.

The accountants express themselves highly satisfied with the facilities afforded them for the prosecution of their investigation in New York. There are many important appendices to the report which were not read, and which will not be published until the issue of Captain Tyler's report, which they will accompany.

The report says that but for a deficit of $456,444 shown by the corrected profit and loss account, as existing on September 30, 1871, $270,000 would have been available, subject to the adjustment of outside matters, for dividends in common stock, after the payment of four dividends on preferred stock for the two years ending June 30, 1873. The accountants anticipate that the value of recoveries from Jay Gould will fall very far short of their nominal amount. An abstract of the statement of the assets and liabilities of the company up to September 30, 1872, shows the liabilities to be $115,449,211, and the assets $118,265,979. The report covers the period from September 30, 1871, to March 31, 1874.

LONDON, October 10.—The following additional points are obtained from the Erie report as published in full in the morning papers: The profits of the Company for three years ended September, 1873, the report says, are subject to a deduction of the Bischoffsheim disputed claim of $400,000 for aid given in the expulsion of Jay Gould from the administration of the Company. The balance sheet to September 30, 1873, shows a net deficit of $2,331,392.

The circular says that in all about 1,100 miles of cable have been laid, and satisfactory tests are obtained daily by the electricians.

RIO JANEIRO, October 9.—The revolution in the Argentine Republic increases in importance. The loan issued a few days ago by the Brazilian Government is favorably received.

BERLIN, October 9.—The National Gazette declares that the Von Arnim arrest is not connected with politics, but is simply a criminal procedure, with which neither the Foreign Office nor the Chancellor were concerned. The Gazette also says copies are in existence of all documents that are required.

THE CAPITAL.

Unjustifiable Attack on Osage Indians.

The Question of the Completion of the U. P. R. R.

WASHINGTON, October 9, 1874.

Unjustifiable Attack on Osage Indians.

The commission appointed to investigate the facts relative to the recent alleged murder of five Osage Indians by Kansas militia have submitted their report to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. They find that the attack on these Indians was unprovoked and utterly unjustifiable, and presume that when the attention of the authorities of Kansas is called to the evidence in the case, they will not hesitate to direct the return of the property captured from these friendly Indians, and it is recommended that in any event the Government of the United States should see that the Osages are reimbursed.

The Question of the Completion of the U. P. R. R.

There seems to be a strong probability that the question of the completion of the Union Pacific Railroad will be settled in a very few days. During the term of office of Secretary Cox a report was made by the commission in regard to that road, in which certain things were recommended to be done to render the road complete as a first-class road within the meaning of the act of Congress. A commission recently appointed by the President has just completed the examination of the road for the purpose of ascertaining whether it has been completed. The report is looked for with very great interest, as its recommendations, if favorable, will permanently establish the status of the road and give to the company its entire land grant, amounting to some 12,000,000 acres, not an acre of which has yet been patented to the road.

False Rumors Denied.

An official statement is made that there is no foundation in fact for the allegation that the act of June 22, 1874, revising and condensing the laws of the United States, effected any change in the rates of duties at that time by law properly imposed, nor is there any foundation in fact for the allegation that the Treasury Department, through its decisions or otherwise, has in any way altered the law or increased the rates of duties.

Montana Territory Capital Removal.

Attorney General Williams has decided upon questions as to whether votes given for and against the removal of the Capital in Montana Territory, at the recent election there, were legally canvassed or can be recanvassed, that they are questions of local concern, in which the departments of the Government have no jurisdiction, and that the appropriate place for their determination is in the Courts of the Territory.

This morning a Catholic priest obtained a search warrant, and a posse of police made a search of Starling Medical College for the body, but without success. During the search two professors and thirty students were placed under arrest.

ÆRIAL PIC-NICING.

The Final Voyage Made Yesterday—Immense Multitude Present at the Union Park—A Pleasant Trip Anticipated.

The final ærial voyage during P. T. Barnum's stay in this city took place from Union Park yesterday afternoon, at half-past four o'clock. The ascension was advertised to take place immediately after the close of the performance within the large tent, and as the work of filling the monster air-ship had been begun early, there was no delay in the "send off" at the appointed time. Although it was the intention of the managers of the Hippodrome not to make another trip skyward, yet they yielded to the urgent request of a number of young ladies, who desired to go pic-nicing to the ethereal regions. The party was made up of Miss Ellen A. Mulhattan, Miss Jane Fuller, Miss Annie M. Denight and Miss Millie York. Professor Donaldson had charge of the balloon, while Mr. D. S. Thomas, Mr. Barnum's press agent, accompanied the young ladies to see them safely returned to the city. It was the intention to have the party composed of five, and that number were in the basket ready to start, but it being found that the weight was too great, one of them had to be left behind, which was attended with no little disappointment. An immense concourse of people were on the grounds to witness the start,—the numbers reaching from twenty to twenty-five thousand. Just before the ropes were cut a friend presented the professor with a tin horn, which he blew during the ascent, which elicited cheers, almost deafening, from the assembled multitude, and soon the aeronauts were several hundred feet above the highest steeples in the city, where the balloon remained in one position for some little time, as it were to consider the matter, when it struck off in a north-easterly direction, passing out of sight in about an hour. The weather being fair, a very pleasant trip was anticipated, but it might have been more agreeable had one of the "fair ones" accompaned Prof. Donaldson as his bride.

At 6 o'clock the balloon passed over Sewickley, but as we go to press this morning nothing further has been learned as to its whereabouts.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

The largest audience of the week greeted Miss Katherine Randolph last night in her appearance in the character of Galatea in the charming mythological comedy of "Galatea the Statue." The houses have nightly been increasing in size, and the prospect is that there will be a rousing matinee this afternoon. Last evening the performance was good throughout, and of Miss Randolph's representation it is only necessary to say that it was fine, and fully justifies the unanimous praise that her acting has evoked from the press. "Galatea" will be repeated at the matinee to-day and "Leah" will be produced to-night, when Miss Randolph makes her last appearance.

John McCollough, the California tragedian, will be the attraction next week at this place of amusement.

Last Day of the Hippodrome.

The performances this afternoon and evening at Barnum's Great Roman Hippodrome, in Union Park, Allegheny, will conclude the exhibition here, and whoever desires to take advantage of this last opportunity to see a show splendid in its appointments, most thrilling in its episodes and healthful in its tendencies, the like of which has never been seen before in this country, should do so to-day. It is worth the admission fee to see the horses alone. Probably no where in the world is there such a collection of trained steeds to be seen. And yet this is but one of the thousand attractive features of the Hippodrome, of which we have heretofore freely spoken. Persons who would not think of visiting a circus recognize the Hippodrome as an entertainment of the highest order, and their appreciation has been daily displayed in the large number of private carriages which surrounded the monster canvas; and those who expected to witness a circus performance were disappointed. The lady performers are not dressed in the usual style of the circus either, simply wearing a riding costume, with long skirts and jockey hats. All the races participated in by both ladies and gentlemen are hotly contested, and the enthusiasm carries the assembly away. Bright eyes sparkle with excitement, cries of encouragement urge on the flying contestants, and the finish is greeted with thundering applause on each occasion. The juveniles who have been permitted to see the monkey race will never forget its amusing incidents, and in after years will recall the two hours spent at Barnum's Hippodrome as a pleasant reminiscence that only young hearts can experience.

Last evening the first heat in the race between a well-known Pittsburgher and a member of Mr. Barnum's company was run, in which the former was placed hors du combat and lost the heat. The second heat will be run this afternoon, the race concluding at the evening exhibition, the winner receiving a gold-headed whip as a present. This will close the Hippodrome's stay in Pittsburgh, and the entire establishment, with all its paraphernalia, will at once be conveyed to Cincinnati, where it will open on Tuesday next, to the citizens of which place we heartily commend it. Mr. W. C. Coup is the general manager; Mr. S. H. Hurd, who we are sorry to learn, is seriously indisposed, is treasurer; Mr. Dan Costello the director, Mr. James W. Nixon the superintendant, and last though not least, Mr. D. S. Thomas the press agent. To the latter gentleman the press of this city are indebted for many courtesies during his two weeks' sojourn here.

Fifth Avenue Theatre.

On Monday night, S. S. Sanford's Old Time Minstrels make their re-appearance in this city at the above-named place. Only a few weeks have elapsed since their representations of antique minstrelsy drew large and appreciative crowds to the Academy of Music. Sanford's entertainments are novel and very enjoyable.

Library Hall.

Dr. I. I. Hays the renowned Arctic explorer, will deliver a lecture next Tuesday night at this hall on his adventures in the Arctic regions. He returned but a few weeks since from a trip to Iceland, in company with Bayard Taylor, to witness the millennial celebration of the settlement of that island. He is soon to start on a grand exploring expedition under the auspices of the New York Herald.

The musical season will be opened next Friday evening at Library Hall by the Theodore Thomas Troupe. The sale of seats commences on Monday at Kleber & Bros., on Wood street. One of the attractions is Miss Cranch, a new American singer.

MR. BOUCICAULT is a dramatist and an actor. When we see his plays we wish he was only an actor. When we see him act, we wish he was only a dramatist.

MISS EMMA CRANCH, a young vocalist, engaged for the Thomas' concerts, sang in Chicago on Monday evening, and is said to possess a full, rich, pure and flexible mezzo-soprano voice.

AN up town mother in New York found her little daughter frightening her baby brother into spasms by looking cross-eyed and foaming at the mouth with her best toilette soap. Fatal effects of a "Sphinx" matinee.

THE receipts at Booth's during last week were as follows: Monday, $2,212; Tuesday, $2,020; Wednesday, $3,212, (Lord Mayor's Night;) Thursday, $2,437; Friday, $2,311; Saturday matinee, $1,304, and estimating the evening at $3,000—Saturday being the grand night at Booth's—would give a total of $16,454, which is the largest weeks receipts Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams ever played to.

LAST week a band of noble women called upon the editor of the paper published at Salisbury, Md., and pleaded eloquently and tearfully with him that he should not in any way encourage the circus people who were then giving their exhibition in the town. Circuses were wicked things, they said. They led to immorality and cost money, and kept people out late at night, and were altogether things to be shunned. There was a matinee that afternoon, and the editor was prospecting around the tent in search of items, when, to his surprise, happening to glance up at an old ice-house hard by, whom should he spy on the roof thereof but the same noble women who had wrestled with him in the morning? They were peeping over the walls of the tent and watching the celebrated equestrienne, Mlle. Rosalinda, in her daring bareback act, and listening to the side-splitting jokes of the Shakespearean clown.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Man Literally Cut to Pieces by a Freight Train.

Last evening, at about half-past nine o'clock, an unknown man met with a frightful accident near the Union Depot. It appears that a freight train was coming in from the direction of Allegheny, and when it reached the curve on Liberty street by some means he fell under the trucks, which passed over his head and body, mangling it in such a manner that it was frightful to look upon. His face was almost entirely cut away, his body completely crushed and his limbs fearfully mutilated. Immediately after the accident he was taken to the undertaking establishment of Mr. W. H. Devore, on Grant street, from which place he will be buried at an early hour this morning, unless claimed by friends. Deceased was apparently about twenty-eight years of age, smooth face, black hair, had on a pair of barred grey pants, brown chinchilla coat, cloth boots, red flannel undershirt, with a calico one over it, and is supposed to have been a laborer.

There is nothing authentic as how to he met with the accident, some thinking that he was riding over from Allegheny on his way home, while others entertain a different opinion. The coroner was notified and an inquest will be held this morning, when in all probability additional facts will be brought out.

REFORMED PRESBYTERIANISM.

Meeting of Pittsburgh Presbytery.

The Pittsburgh Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, held its semi-annual meeting on last Wednesday, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the White church, Darlington, Beaver county, Pa., and was opened by a sermon by Rev. Wm. Young, of this city, who took as his text the first clause of the 15th verse of the 6th chapter of Zechariah The discourse considered the Church of God as a temple, the persons who are entitled to build in this temple, and how they are to carry on their work, and was concluded with an exhortation to pecuniary liberality, love and Christian steadfastness on the part of those present. The Court was then constituted by Rev. John Alford, Moderator, who opened with prayer. The Clerk of Presbytery having been called to a field of labor in the land of his birth, Rev. W. Young was elected to fill this office pro tem. The roll was called, and the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved. After the transaction of some other business, by motion Presbytery adjourned for an hour and a half for the purpose of partaking of the sumptuous repast that had been prepared specially for the occasion by the ladies of the Darlington congregation. Ample justice was done to the excellent viands by the large audience assembled. There were present several ministers of other evangelical denominations, who participated in the exercises and enjoyments of the hour. After reconvening, Rev. Johnston, of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. McIlheny, of the U. P. Church, and Rev. Johnston of the R. P. Church, being present in court, were, on motion of Rev. W. Young, duly seconded and passed unanimously, invited to sit as consultative members. The wants of the vacant congregations within the bounds of Presbytery formed the chief item of business during the afternoon session. Some appropriations of money were made to those congregations standing in need, and Mr. Thomas Smith, one of the elders of the First R. P. Church, Pittsburgh, was appointed Treasurer of the Presbyterial fund. In the matter of the Pine Creek church property, which was recently declared by the Court in Equity to rightly belong to the R. P. Church, and which the majority of the congregation are endeavoring to sell for the benefit of another denomination, Presbytery appointed a committee to give public notice that the property cannot be alienated from the R. P. Church, and that, therefore, the above mentioned sale can not, under such conditions, proceed. Shortly afterwards, Allegheny city was chosen as the place for holding the next meeting of the Presbytery, on the first Wednesday of April, at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

Resolutions tendering thanks to the ladies for the splendid dinner they had prepared, was then passed unanimously.

The exercises were brought to a close by prayer, singing of the 133d psalm, and the pronunciation of the Apostolic benediction.

This meeting was characterized by the utmost harmony, good order and missionary feeling. The friends separated and returned to their respective homes, more firmly knit together by the ties of a common faith, hope and destiny, delighted with the communion of Saints which was that day manifested, and determined to go forward with renewed ardor and brightening prospects, in the faithful discharge of the various duties assigned them. May we be privileged to witness many such delightful occasions. It may be here stated that Presbytery has under its care one student of theology, Mr. Samuel Caughey, who was directed to prepare a discourse, as a specimen of improvement, on a text to be assigned him by the Clerk of Presbytery, to be delivered at the next meeting. Y.

An Item for Insurers.

There are two essentials for a safe insurance—first, a good company, and second, a good agent. By the first the insurer has a certainty of getting the amount of his loss refunded, and in the second he has the advantage of having the business settled up promptly and pleasantly. An insurance agency that offers these advantages is that of Messrs R. E. Heron & Co., whose headquarters are on the second floor of the Union National Bank building, corner of Fourth avenue and Market street. This agency, or firm, represents Eastern, Western and Home companies, all of them of abundant capital and of long established credit. Thus the insurer has his choice of reasonable rates and the safest insurance. Then further, in the settlement of claims the insurer will have the advantage of dealing with a firm with which he will never have any vexation, annoyance or delay, but will receive fair treatment, and a prompt adjustment of any loss, whether small or great. We can heartily recommend Messrs. R. E. Heron & Co. to any of our readers who desire a policy of insurance.

KING, REED & CO.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1874.

BONDS at Frankfort 97½.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 25½f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110½.

IT is stated that Russia intends to aid Denmark, in the case of difficulty with Germany over the Schleswig question.

THE Convention of the Episcopal Church, being held in New York, is very largely attended, and the proceedings are very interesting, but not, as yet, of special importance. It will doubtless be one of the most important Conventions of the Church yet held.

THE affirmation that Tilton has made as much as $20,000 by the sale of his statements, his wife's letters, and such other literature, as stands connected with the Beecher scandal, puts him in a very unenviable light, if not denied. It goes far toward impressing the public with the idea that all along he has been tricky, venal and contemptible. A person who would deliberately do this, would do many other mean things.

THE inhuman treatment of dumb brutes at and about the wharves of our city, calls for action on the part of our City Council, in order to prevent, as much as possible, its recurrence in the future. The bleating of dumb animals that have been confined on a boat and tied at the wharf for more than forty-eight hours without nourishment of any kind, grates harshly on the ears of any one claiming a nature possessed of the least drop of the milk of human kindness.

THE Republican conferees of the Twenty-fourth Congressional District, made up of Washington, Beaver and Lawrence counties, at their meeting yesterday at the Union Depot Hotel, nominated Dr. John W. Wallace as their candidate for Congress. Dr. Wallace was elected to Congress in 1860, and served in that body at the time of the outbreak of the Rebellion. He was one of the ablest men ever in Congress from that district, and an intimate friend of Thad. Stevens. He was appointed a paymaster in the army in 1863, and served till the close of the war. He is sure of election.

BISMARCK AND VON ARNIM.

The Von Arnim warfare, in which it seems the German Emperor is interested, jointly with Bismarck, has assumed a very serious aspect. The arrest and incarceration of a noble of the Empire, for no offense known to the laws, is a very serious infringement of personal rights, even in Germany, where this question is clearly involved in the Constitution, to which King William was sworn. What may be the exact rule relative to the keeping of State and diplomatic archives, we do not certainly know. Just what constitute government archives seems to be a question between the parties. Von Arnim claims that the documents sent him in approval of his course are personal property, and not that of the Government; and that all he lays claim to are of this character. The Government affirms that as official reasons were given for approval or disapproval, and that as the correspondence referred to was official and not personal, it all belonged to the archives of the mission, and is the property of the Government. This is the outward phase of the dispute. Von Arnim seems to have anticipated the course which has been taken, and was prepared for it, having so completely concealed the documents that thus far they have not been found. This is one phase of the affair. There is, of course, another, and deeper one.

The Von Arnims were the early friends of the Bismarcks, and the Count was intimate with Prince Bismarck. Naturally, the latter, who sent him to France chiefly because of this close personal relation, unfolded to him, at great length, and in entire confidence, all his views, as regards France and Germany, and the ecclesiastical question. But Von Arnim drifted into partisanship in the ecclesiastical struggle, and operated against Bismarck's views. The latter wished Thiers to remain in power in France, as being less troublesome than MacMahon; but Von Arnim intrigued for Thiers' overthrow, and succeeded. It is declared that the documents in which Bismarck expressed and gave his reasons for his disapproval of this course are taken away, as well as others. Thus the confidential utterances of Bismarck on the ecclesiastical question are what the Count has possession of. They are very badly wanted. Any who have read Bismarck's life, and noted the freedom of his utterances in writing, may realize the grave importance of these documents. They are the key to his purposes and motives in the great struggle now going forward in Europe. Already Bismarck has been damaged by the exposure of State secrets, and it may be imagined that the injury now anticipated is great, because of the frantic efforts made to avert the danger.

WRONG INFERENCES.

The Post assumes two things, in commenting on an editorial of ours, that are not legitimate inferences from what we said, but are clearly incorrect, as bearing on the political situation. It assumes when there is defection from a party, "it is no longer true to the principles it professes to represent." The Republican party as a whole, is true to the principles it professes to represent; and for this reason we urge the people to vote the ticket. When we have more space than we can command this morning, we will fully develop this truth; but we hold that the principles of the Republican party are so much better than those of the Democracy that even when our candidates are no better than theirs they should still be voted for because of the principles they represent. And we have declared, and do most distinctly declare, that not only are our State candidates better than those of the Democracy, but that to say the least, our local candidates, take them all through, are fully equal to those of the Democracy. And the Post does not deny this! That all our candidates are equal to what we would have, we do not claim, and regard it as an error that when the material was at hand for suitable candidates, we did not have them; but such as they are, they are as good as the Democrats offer, take them all in all. The trouble is, Republicans are in the habit of expecting and claiming better candidates than the Democracy set up. Our party has better principles, and claims better candidates; and hence when we have no better than they, a sense of disappointment follows. But no Republican will bolt any part of the ticket, because of his belief that the party principles have been abandoned; the complaint is, that some,—not all, of the candidates are not equal to the principles of the party. We have yet to know of any Republican who will not vote the State nominations. Again the Post says "party defection—arising from this cause—is confined entirely to the Republican party at this time." Whatever the cause may be, it is entirely certain, not only that there is defection in the Democratic party at this time, but that this defection is relatively as great as in the Republican ranks. We could make the ears of the Post editors tingle, were we to state the names of Democrats whom we know to purpose, at this time, to vote the temperance ticket. We know, further, that there are Democrats, in certain parts of this county, that intend to vote for certain Republican Legislative candidates. We will be greatly surprised if there are not enough Democrats who will vote for the most unpopular of Republican candidates, to make good all they will lose of Republican votes. We are dealing in perfect candor with this subject, and are indulging in no doubtful statements.

The GAZETTE has gone far beyond the Post in this matter of independence. The Post knows that there are candidates on its ticket that are no more worthy of public confidence, irrespective of politics, than the poorest element on the Republican ticket. It further knows that the best it has is no better than the best on the Republican ticket. We are speaking candidly of this matter, and know whereof we speak. Therefore, to our mind, the whole subject comes back, as regards our local candidates, to the mere question, "Which of the parties, as parties, deserves to be upheld?" So far as we know, any defection there may be in the Republican party turns on the idea, not that the candidates are not as good as those of the Democracy, but that the Republican party, with its pure principles and noble record, is deserving of better representatives than the Democrats give. Their aim is, not to abandon, but to rebuke, and thus rectify the nominations in their own party. But our point is that this is not the time to do that. Such matters should be attended to in the primaries. But we are gratified to know that quite as many Democrats will vote against their candidates as there are of Republicans who will vote against theirs.

WHEELER'S EXPEDITION.

Official and Authentic Account of the Work of the Survey.

Operations Nearly Over for the Season—Amid Snow and Ice in the Summer Time—Discovery of Mammoth Remains—Immense Contributions to Science.

[From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

DENVER, COL., Sept. 29, 1874.

The cold weather is driving in those of the members of the two exploring expeditions in this vicinity who can leave their posts, and in a comparatively short time the field will be entirely abandoned. Lieut. Wheeler passed through here Sunday, on his way to San Francisco, and Dr. Yarrow, of Philadelphia, belonging to the naturalistic portion of the survey, went East this morning with a number of specimens of extinct creations, found by himself and Professor Cope in the western drainage of the Chain River, in New Mexico. The rest of the expedition expect to disband about the 25th of November, and the parties that now continue in the field are fast leaving the mountains and approaching the lower level. Your correspondent has been "interviewing" some of the sybaritish savans, who found their substitutes for rose leaves very poor protection against the frost of even the foot hills, and has obtained from them an undoubtedly authentic account of

WHAT THE EXPEDITION HAS BEEN DOING since it set out from Pueblo the latter part of July. Judging from the quality of the night the party Lieutenant Wheeler was with experienced camping out on Summit Mountain, last week, they need not be such very fair-weather explorers to have been glad to come down to the comparatively civilized climate of the plains. When it was snowing a regular winter's snow-storm around the party, the wind was also blowing a whirlwind not often met with except in the heat of summer, while in their immediate neighborhood it was raining with an energy generally peculiar to only the rainy season; and, again, further off, the sky was perfectly clear and the stars could be seen twinkling through the intervening snow-flakes. As may be conjectured from this, nights in the higher altitudes, where the surveyors have been working, even in the height of summer, are as cold as an average winter's night in many portions of the States, and your correspondent, when in Middle Park in August, found on the water he intended to perform his ablution with an inch of ice on more than one morning. In addition to the exposure, the survey has also undergone great hardship through the almost inaccessible character of the country they have been obliged to traverse, which this year have been apparently, more difficult to traverse through than usual. On the 20th inst. one party succeeded in penetrating to the junction of the San Juan and Colorado Rivers, which Lieutenant Wheeler declared to be one of the most inaccessible regions on the continent. With all the hardships and difficulty that seem the necessary accompaniments of their explorations, the explorers cannot be made to believe there is any danger in them, at any rate from Indians. So strong is this opinion that Lieutenant Wheeler refused to take an escort with him, although, indeed, he has been accredited with the opinion that the soldiers rather drew the fire of the Indians instead of serving as a protection against them. If the tree is known by its fruits, indeed, his theory is correct, for not a single member of this expedition the present year has been in the least molested, while the party that Fred Loring was with, which was cut off and nearly all killed near Wicklenburg, in Arizona, in 1871, was supposed to be guarded by a considerable escort. But to go from the pains and perils of these explorations to their results,

THE DISCOVERIES OF VERTEBRATES AND INVERTEBRATES made by Professor Cope and Dr. Yarrow, notwithstanding the short time they have been out, are declared by competent authority to be the most important made since paleontology acquired its present scientific status. The first mentioned comprise a large number of new species of animals that were found in the cretaceous, eocene and pliocene periods. Among them are quite perfect specimens of several of the mastodons and other elephantine creations of former days. One hundred new species of invertebrates have been also found, and a large number of rediscoveries, which will be invaluable in determining the ages of the different formations where the same species have been discovered in other quarters of the globe. These discoveries were made exactly on the divide of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, where the San Juan flows on one side and the Rio Grande on the other. Here, also, it is said, can be found the marks left by the ebb and flow of the tides of those oceans when the Rockies formed the only barrier between them. Besides these discoveries of Professor Cope and Dr. Yarrow, the natural history division laboring in portions of Arizona and New Mexico contiguous to the above has collected 1,000 bird skins and a large number of specimens of mammals, reptiles, and fishes, including five new species of the latter. Dr. Loem, the chemist with the expedition, has also been devoting himself to analyzing

THE MINERAL AND THERMAL SPRINGS he has come across, and has discovered curative properties in several for a large proportion of the ills that flesh is heir to, that were entirely unknown before. He has, too, collected many new plants which will be of use in the economic arts, and his analysis of the soil of the different formations over which he has passed will, it is said, lead to other practical results. The main object of the expedition, that of the construction of a map of all this region, has not been forgotten, and the work of triangulating the country has progressed rapidly in every direction. The principal seat of operations has been in the Sangree de Cristo, Chinchera, the Spanish, Mount Taylor, and other ranges in Eastern Arizona, Southwestern Colorado, and Northern New Mexico, the principal peaks of which have formed.

THE MAIN TRIANGULATIVE POINTS for the survey, but Pueblo, Santa Fe, Trinidad, and a number of other towns have been also occupied as stations on the bases of the triangles used in the triangulation. The party of surveyors engaged in this work, under command of Lieutenant Marshall, while going from Hunt's Peak to Uncompahgre, discovered a pass over the main divide that is declared to be the lowest pass to the Pacific slope in California, except the Coochetope, and superior to all but that and the Tennessee. Indeed, one of the pet plans of Lieutenant Wheeler is the discovery of practical passes through the mountains which will afford access for army supplies to the stations in the southern part of Utah and Arizona. While wandering around, triangulating and finding passes, the surveyors came across an interesting reminiscence of the surveys of bygone days. It will be remembered that one Captain Pike was sent out by the Government in the early part of the present century, to survey this very country, on which the Wheeler expedition has been engaged the past two seasons. He was captured by Mexicans and detained prisoner there a long time, and the records he had kept of his discoveries were never recovered. These latter have not yet been found, but remains of the stockade which poor Pike erected, to small purpose, to defend himself against his assailants have been discovered in the Sangre de Cristo valley, and a peg inscribed with his name, and dated 1807, was found in the same locality, near the bank of a little creek that emptied into the Rio Grande.

ELECTION NOTICE.

Proclamation!

WHEREAS, In and by the 13th section of the Act of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, passed July 2, 1839, entitled "An Act relating to the Elections in this Commonwealth," it is enjoined on the Sheriff of every county to give notice of such elections to be held and enumerate in such notice what officers are to be elected. In pursuance thereof, I, JOHN H. HARE, Sheriff of the county of Allegheny, do therefore make known, and give this public notice to the electors of said county of Allegheny, that a General Election will be held in said county on the FIRST TUESDAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT, being the 3d day of the month, in the several Election Districts therein.

And as directed by said 13th section of the act of July, 1839, I hereby give notice that every person (excepting Justices of the Peace) who shall hold any office or appointment of profit or trust under the Government of the United States, or this State, or of any city or incorporated district, whether a commissioned officer or otherwise a subordinate officer or agent, who is or shall be employed under the Legislative, Executive or Judiciary department of this State, or of the United States, or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress, and of the State Legislature, and of the Select and Common Council of any city, or Commissioners of any incorporated district, is by law incapable of holding or exercising at the same time the office or appointment of Judge, Inspector or Clerk of any election of this Commonwealth, and that no Inspector, Judge or other officer of any such election shall be eligible to any office to be then voted for.

And further, by the first section of the act of March 30, 1874:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That the qualified voters of the several counties of this Commonwealth at all general township, borough and special elections, are hereby hereafter authorized and required to vote by tickets, printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, severally classified as follows: One ticket shall embrace the names of all Judges of courts voted for, and be labeled outside "Judiciary;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all the State officers voted for, and be labeled "State;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all county officers voted for, including office of Senator, member or members of Assembly, if voted for, and members of Congress, if voted for, and be labeled "County;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all township officers voted for, and be labeled "Township;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all borough officers voted for, and be labeled "Borough," and each class shall be deposited in separate ballot boxes.

And whereas, by virtue of the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, adopted December 16, 1873:

Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections: First—He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month. Second—He shall have resided in the State one year (or if, having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months,) immediately preceding the election. Third—He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election. Fourth—If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

SEC. 5. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach or surety of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance on elections and in going to and returning therefrom.

SEC. 6. Whenever any of the qualified electors of this Commonwealth shall be in actual military service, under a requisition from the President of the United States or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in all elections by the citizens, under such regulations as are or shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual places of election.

SEC. 7. All laws regulating the holding of elections by the citizens or for the registration of electors shall be uniform throughout the State; but no elector shall be deprived of the privilege of voting by reason of his name not being registered.

SEC. 13. For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained a residence by reason of his presence, or lost it by reason of his absence, while employed in the service, either civil or military, of this State or of the United States, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of this State or of the United States, or on the high seas, nor while a student of any institution of learning, nor while kept in any poor house or other asylum at public expense, nor while confined in public prison.

SEC. 14. District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, or felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service.

SEC. 15. No person shall be qualified to serve as an election officer who shall hold, or shall within two months have held any office, appointment or employment in or under the Government of the United states, or of this State, or of any city, or county, or of any municipal board, commission or trust in any city, save only justices of the peace and aldermen, notaries public and persons in the militia service of the State; nor shall any election officer be eligible to any civil office to be filled at an election at which he shall serve, save only to such subordinate municipal or local offices, below the grade of city or county offices, as shall be designated by general law.

And whereas the Legislature of this Commonwealth, by an act approved January 30, 1874, entitled a further supplement to the act regulating the Elections in this Commonwealth:

SEC. 8. At the opening of the polls at all elections it shall be the duty of the judges of election for their respective districts to designate one of the inspectors, whose duty it shall be to have in custody the registry of voters, and to make the entries therein required by law; and it shall be the duty of the other of said inspectors to receive and number the ballots presented at said election.

SEC. 9. All elections by the citizens shall be by ballot; every ballot voted shall be numbered in the order in which it shall be received, and the number recorded by the clerks on the list of voters opposite the name of the elector from whom received. And any voter voting two or more tickets, the several tickets so voted shall each be numbered with the number corresponding with the number to the name of the voter. Any elector may write his name upon his ticket, or cause the same to be written thereon, and attested by a citizen of the district. In addition to the oath now prescribed by law to be taken and subscribed by election officers, they shall severally be sworn or affirmed not to disclose how any elector shall have voted, unless required to do so as witnesses in a judicial proceeding. All judges, inspectors, clerks, and overseers of any election held under this act shall, before entering upon their duties, be duly sworn or affirmed in the presence of each other. The judge shall be sworn by the minority inspector, if there shall be such minority inspector, and in case there be no minority inspector, then by a justice of the peace or alderman, and the inspectors, overseers and clerks shall be sworn by the judge. Certificates of such swearing or affirming shall be duly made out and signed by the officers so sworn, and attested by the officer who administered the oath. If any judge or minority inspector refuses or fails to swear the officers of election in the manner required by this act, or if any officer of election shall act without being first duly sworn, or if any officer of election shall sign the form of oath without being duly sworn, or if any judge or minority inspector shall certify that any officer was sworn when he was not, it shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, the officer or officers so offending shall be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Sure Preventive to the Freezing of Water Pipes and Accidents of Similar Nature to Water Closets.

We beg leave to offer to the public our

which is Anti-freezing and Inodorous. It is the most durable Closet in the market, for the following reasons: It will not freeze. It is strictly self-acting. It does not cause any re-acting and bursting of pipes. It is free from all obnoxious odors, and therefore will improve the sanitary condition of our cities. It has no valves to get out of repair and leak.

With our valuable improvement obnoxious cesspools in yards are dispensed with, as direct communication is made with the sewer pipe.

The public are invited to call at our salesroom, and examine this valuable improvement in operation, where its great advantages can be seen at a glance, or send for circular containing full particulars.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, October 10, 1874.

No special events occurred yesterday in our local money market requiring special record. There begins to be considerable inquiry after the Allegheny bonds that were to have been issued on the first of October. The delay in their issue is attributed to the non-signing of the petition to remove the road from bankruptcy. As under the existing law the signature of two-thirds of the interest will accomplish the result, the impression is gaining ground that either there is not enough energy used to secure that result or that there is an ominous unwillingness to do it. There has been an undercurrent of talk that after all it will be better to force the road into bankruptcy and then combine and buy it up, or compel the Pennsylvania Railroad to pay enough for it to thoroughly satisfy all the creditors. It is certainly an interesting subject.

The several failures at the East within a fortnight are beginning to attract attention. The view that prevails is, that nothing exists to cause a loss of confidence. The Chicago Tribune remarks: "Within the last few days several failures have occurred in New York. As yet, only a few are reported, and, if other firms should go under, no careful student of business affairs will be surprised. We presume when the facts are known, most, if not all of them, will be found to be the result of the panic a year ago. They are the clearing-up showers after the financial storm which then threatened desolation and ruin to the entire country. Till the public are satisfied that all the weak firms have gone into liquidation, anything like a strong movement in business circles, and any considerable appreciation in the price of property, personal or real, cannot be expected. It is well known that a class of mercantile banking and other houses, more especially in the seaboard cities, have been struggling on since the panic as best they could, hoping for better times to bring them out. Some of them may be able to do it; but with others the case is hopeless. Of course, the failures noticed within the past two weeks belonged to this class, and, when the others have passed out of sight, business affairs will move along with a steady and gradually-increasing volume. The skies will be clearer when these relics of the storm are seen and felt no more."

NEW YORK, October 9, 1874.

Money 2@3; prime mercantile paper 6@7. Sterling was weak at 484@484½ for sixty days, and 487½@487¾ for sight. The advance in borrowing rates for cash gold had a depressing effect on the exchange market. The customs receipts were $327,000. The imports of dry goods for the week were $2,019,347. Gold opened at 110, and closed at 110⅛, all sales of the day having been at these figures. The borrowing rates were 1-64 per diem, and 1 to 3 per annum. Loans were also made flat. At the close there was some little fear of a "squeeze" in cash gold in the future. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $32,000. The clearings were $32,000,000. Governments were quiet. State bonds were dull and strong, except Tennessees, which are lower. Railroad bonds are active, and in some cases higher. The general unsettling of stock speculation during the past few days consequent upon the actual suspension of mercantile firms, added to unfounded rumors circulated about well known houses, has resulted in giving the "bear" element a preponderance in the market, and a further decline took place to-day. The market opened weak at 1-8@5-8 below the closing prices of yesterday, and later made a further decline of 1-4@1-2. As the day advanced the market improved 1-4 to 7-8. Late in the afternoon there was a general falling off in prices of 3-8@1 1-2 per cent., and in final dealings the lowest quotations of the day were made. Erie fell off 2¼ per cent. at one time, the decline being the result of the English accountant's report given on the London Stock Exchange to-day. The decline at the close was most marked in Northwest common, Lake Shore, Erie, Pacific Mail, Western Union, and Wabash. the sales were 210,000 shares, of which 29,000 were Western Union, 18,000 Pacific Mail, 30,000 Erie, 61,000 Lake Shore, 34,000 Union Pacific, 26,000 Northwest common, 5,500 Wabash, and 6,400 Ohios. Another failure was reported to-day, but is not verified.

PITTSBURGH DAILY MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, Oct. 9, 1874.

General business continues to move along quietly, although there is a steady consumptive demand for the leading articles, and, in the aggregate, a very fair business. An exchange in commenting on the situation says: "It is not far from the truth to say that during the past twelve months scarcely a dollar of profit has been made in the United States, either in commerce or manufactures. There are a few exceptions to the rule; but if a general average could be struck it would probably be found that the small losses of many more than counter-balance the profits of the few. The effects of the panic have remained long, and the failures during the past two or three weeks are but the outgrowths of that event. The panic set those houses on the stagger, and they have since been vainly trying to recover their equilibrium."

APPLES—The market is quiet and unchanged—sales at $1.50@2.50, according to quality.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand and we can report regular sales at 33@35 for prime to choice.

BEANS—Quotable at $2@2.25 ₩ bushel for mediums, and $2.40@2.50 for prime navies.

CHESTNUTS—The supply was light to-day, and the market was firmer in consequence; fairly quotable at $5 ₩ bushel.

CHEESE—Continues firm, with an early advance almost certain; we continue to quote at 15½@16 for Ohio Factory and 16½@17 for New York.

CRANBERRIES—Good to prime Jerseys quoted at $10@12 ₩ bbl. as to quality. Sackett's, $15. The demand as yet is light.

EGGS—The market is quiet, and 24 may be regarded as the ruling quotation—there are but very few sales being made above it.

FLOUR—There is a fair local trade, but the market continues quiet and prices remain unchanged. We continue former quotations: Spring wheats, $6.25@6.50 for Wisconsins and $7@7.25 for Minnesotas; winters; $6@6.50 for red and $7@7.50 for white. Rye Flour, $5.75.

GROCERIES—The grocery trade continues a little slow, it is not as brisk as it has been, or as it usually is at this season of the year, although, as we intimated the other day, our merchants could increase their business considerably if they were not so chary about credits; they are, as a rule, refusing to sell on time except to those who buy on short time, and promptly meet their engagements. Long winded buyers are given a wide berth, and it is not to be expected in these days, with goods selling on very small margins, that our merchants can wait for from four to six months on collections. Coffee, according to telegrams from New York to-day, has stiffened up again and is somewhat excited, with an increased business. Sugars are also strong but without quotable change.

GRAIN—There is some inquiry from country mills for Wheat, with little or no stock in this market; prices, however, are not quotably higher, and we continue to quote at $1.12@1.15 for Penna and Ohio red and $1.18@1.20 for amber and white. There was considerable new ear Corn on the market but there appeared to be no demand for it; the last sales reported were at 70, but it is doubtful whether over 65 could have been obtained to-day. The arrivals during the past day or two have been liberal, and for the present, the market is overstocked. Old ear is also slow with sales at 90@91. Old shelled is still quotable at 90@92; sales of several cars reported at 90. New shelled, like, new ear, is hard to dispose of at any price. Rye is quiet and nominally unchanged at $1@1.05.

GRAPES—3@4c ₩ lb.

HAY—Loose sold from country wagons, in Allegheny, to-day, at $25@30. Baled continues dull but prices remain unchanged; $18@22, according to quality. Oat straw sold from country wagons at $16@18.

POULTRY—Live chickens quotable at 50@60c ₩ pair, by the coop.

POTATOES—The market continues firm, and we advance our quotations to 90@95c ₩ bushel on track, by the car load—one car reported at 95. Sweets unchanged; Baltimores, $3.50@4; Jerseys, $4.50@5.

PROVISIONS—There is a steady demand, and we can report regular sales at quotations: Hams, 15 cents for plain and 14½c for canvassed; Sugar Cured shoulders, 12; Breakfast Bacon, 16½; Dried Beef, Sugar Cured, 15; Bacon Shoulders, 11½; Ribbed Sides, 15½; Clear Sides, 16½; Mess Pork, $25.00, Lard, in tierces; 16¼; in half barrels, 16¾; in bkts., 17¼.

TALLOW—Country, 7@7½; city, 8@8¼.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is quiet and unchanged at $2.90@3 ₩ bushel to the trade.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, Oct. 9, 1874.

PIG IRON.

There has been, we regret to state, no perceptible improvement in the pig iron trade since the date of our last review, and, furthermore, the outlook, as regards the immediate future of the market, is not very encouraging. Business continues dull, the demand is still restricted to supplying immediate wants, and, in the present condition of the market, a round lot could not be disposed of unless inducements in the shape of a very low price or long time were held out; consumers generally appear to be impressed with the belief that there is no probability of an advance this side of January, if then; hence they will continue to adhere to the hand-to-mouth policy, to carry no more stock than they can possibly help. Some few of our mill men appear to be impressed with the belief that there will be a still further shrinkage in pig iron between now and the close of the year, but the general feeling, among both buyers and sellers, is that there will be but little, if any, change either way during the time in question. In regard to production, while it is generally conceded that it has been largely curtailed recently, that a large percentage of the furnaces have blown out, yet it is also admitted that stocks all over the country are unusually, we might say, unprecedently, heavy, and until this large surplus has been reduced, no improvement in the market can reasonably be expected. As compared with last week, prices remain unchanged. We continue to quote Foundry Iron at $28@29; 4 mos, for No. 1, and $26@27 for No. 2. Gray Forge, $26@26½. Following were sales were reported:

BITUMINOUS COAL SMELTED FROM L. S. ORE.

MANUFACTURED IRON.

Trade in finished irons, while it is not active, while orders are not coming in very freely, and furthermore, they are nearly all small, it is about all that can reasonably be expected; however, notwithstanding both jobbers and consumers are buying sparingly, as compared with former years, there is nevertheless, a very fair business in the aggregate. The best evidence of this is that the mills are, with one or two exceptions, all in operation, some of them are working up to their full capacity, and while, as already stated, orders are small, they are more numerous, indicating a healthy and legitimate trade, and no doubt is apprehended by manufacturers but what they will have all they can do during the remainder of the year. We continue to quote on a basis of two cents and eight-tenths for merchant bars, usual time.

NAILS.

The Nail trade has been very unsatisfactory all season, and it is not generally expected that there will be any change for the better until towards Spring. Even at the current low rates, $3.35, sixty days, which afford little or no margin for profit, orders are coming in sparingly, and mostly for small lots, and the indications are that the most of the factories will be obliged to curtail their production, if they do not desire to accumulate stock.

SCRAP IRON.

The market for scrap continues exceedingly dull, at least it is so reported by dealers, and while hopes of an early improvement are entertained, the outlook at this writing is not very encouraging. Prices are nominal—there is not enough doing to establish rates.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, Oct. 9, 1874.

The Crude market dull and weak, and, as compared with yesterday, prices have further declined; sales reported at $1 for immediate shipment. Refined, for Philadelphia delivery, continues dull, although without quotable change as regards prices; 12⅜ for prompt shipment, and 12⅝ for latter part of the month. On cars at Connellsville depot, 9¾ is still regarded as the ruling figure, and we can report a sale, made this afternoon, of 1,000 bbls, to be delivered within thirty days at the price in question. Shipments are now being made regularly by the Connellsville route, as the great difference in the cost of transportation a good deal more than makes up for the expense our refiners are subjected to in having their oil "teamed" from their refineries to the Connellsville depot; and, futhermore, it will furnish employment for a large number of men and teams.

We observe that the Titusville refiners are fully as much, if not more exercised in regard to the action of the railroads, than those of Pittsburgh. The Courier of Thursday says in regard to the subject: "The condition of the oil market is such that, while exporters refuse to touch refined at the prices asked, crude oil has been lifted to such figures as absolutely prevents refiners from running their works. The stagnation is almost complete. There is but one solution for the present difficulty: The railway companies must yield. Dissolve the combination and business will start afresh. Even if there should be no legal proceeding instituted to bring the railway companies to terms, their thousands of cars piled up along their switches and side tracks will begin to clamor for motion. The shipments of refined oil from Titusville are about one-tenth of what they were before the beginning of the embargo. The hundreds of men suddenly thrown out of employment since Monday last in this city, while they cannot afford to be idle a day, are witnesses to the oppression by the railway managers in advancing freights upon oil at the present depressed condition of the petroleum trade. The stupendous folly of the railway companies, in adding to the incumbrances already pressing heavily upon the petroleum interests, can be accounted for only on the supposition that there is hidden away from public inspection some great project which the railroads are aiding to establish."

The Barrel trade continues quiet and unchanged; countries, $1.30; city make, $1.45.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
FRIDAY, Oct. 9, 1874.

CATTLE.

There has been little or nothing done in this class of stock since the date of our last report, and there rarely ever is during the time in question, hence prices are nominally unchanged; 3@4 for stockers; 4½@5½ for common to medium butcher cattle, and 6 to 6¾ for good to choice 1,300 to 1,500 steers. The bulk of the receipts from and including Friday up until Sunday are through consignments.

HOGS.

The market for good, heavy hogs continues stiff, and since the date of our last report, prices have advanced 10@15 cents ₩ cwt. Philadelphia hogs sold to-day at 7.40, and well informed operators predicted that they would bring 7½c to-morrow (Saturday.) Light hogs, however, continues quiet, with a supply fully up to the demand, and prices remain about as last quoted, ranging from 5¾@6¼ for fair to good Yorkers.

SHEEP.

The market for this class of stock has undergone no quotable change since the date of our last report, and is devoid of any new features worthy of special notice. We continue to quote at 5@5½ for good to prime, and 4@4½ for common to medium.

IRON MARKETS.

Reports from New York, Philadelphia and England.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—American Pig.—The market for American Iron presents about the same features. Some of the companies are sold up, while others are overburdened with large stocks, and under the influence of necessity are compelled to accept low prices. $29 to $30 may be considered a fair quotation for No 1; $27.50 to $28.50 for No 2; while Forge varies from $23 to $27. We do not hear of any sale of importance, the transactions of the week having been limited to small lots. The shipments from the Lehigh region have been in excess of those of July and August. This may be owing to the desire to get Iron forward prior to the close of navigation. Bars continue firm at 3c. The only noticeable feature of the market is the absence of cutting. There is a slightly improved demand.—Iron Age.

PHILADELPHIA.—The market presents no new features for the week under review, save some slight improvement in Manufactured Irons. There is not the slightest speculative feeling noticeable, and any improvement must come from increased consumption. How far this may be expected is the problem now exercising the minds of producers. The only thing which seems at all certain is that prices of Pig metal cannot go much lower, if any, without greatly restricting production. The business doing, while perhaps in absolute deliveries not so much less than at this date last year, is at very low prices, frequently under published quotations. In Manufactured Irons things are better, with a fair business in Rails, Sheet and Plate, and somewhat more orders for Bars. From this little spurt in rolled Iron may possibly come a stronger demand for Forge Pig. The transactions in these lines of Manufactured Iron have been more considerable than for some weeks, but at prices previously quoted. Rails are fairly active for the season, and the demand must steadily increase from this on, as so many railroads are in absolute need of repairs.

Among the sales are quoted the following transactions: Pig Iron,—3,500 tons No. 2 Foundry and White and Mottled; 1,500 tons No. 1 and 2 Allentown, Philllipsburg delivery. Sales of C. B. Charcoal Pig at $37.50, at furnace, Pennsylvania. Rails,—3,000 tons Steel to Central Pacific Railroad, by Cambria Company, omitted last week; 1,000 tons, $58, at mill, West. Old Rails,—1,500 tons, $31.50, delivered at Allentown, 4 mos; 1,550 tons Old Rails, superior lot, $33.50, spot. Scrap,—200 tons at $33.

ENGLAND.—A cable dispatch to the Iron Age, under date of 7th inst., reports as follows: Scotch Pig.—During the week the quotations for makers' Irons have advanced over the figures last quoted by cable, and the market is now firm at the rise, apparently owing to a genuine shipping demand, the returns for last week showing a slight increase over the corresponding period of last year. The following are makers' prices:

Gartsherrie No. 1	118
Coltness No. 1	118
Glengarnock No. 1	107 6
Eglinton No. 1	96

Manufactured Iron—The market is quiet; prices are nominal, and quotations unchanged. Amount of business small. Rails—The market is dull; the demand is improving, but prices are weaker. But little business is doing. There is no change in quotations.

Competition of English and American Iron Manufacturers.

The London Times of Sept. 21, commenting on the iron trade of South Staffordshire, says that makers of tubes and other classes of heavy wrought-iron work affirm that they cannot successfully compete with American and Belgian firms until the standard for marked bars is reduced to £9, it now being £13.

Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with 25 inches by the marks, although there is fully 6 inches more water than the marks indicate. Weather mild and pleasant—the indications for rain are not as favorable as they were on Thursday.

The Messenger was at Freedom yesterday, but was unable to get any further without lightering. Her clerk, Mr. Fisher, came up to the city in the afternoon in quest of a towboat to go down and assist her up. She will probably be found in port this morning.

Captain Danny McAleer takes his departure for Cincinnati to-day, to look after his coal interests at that point.

Mr. Alf. Buchanan, a well known Cincinnati coal dealer, left for home yesterday.

Commodore W. J. Kountz, was in the city, yesterday, having just arrived from St. Louis.

The Exchange is lying up temporarily at Cincinnati. It is probable that she will be wanted there in a few days again for the up river packet trade, as the water is getting down, and the larger boats will soon be compelled to haul off. As soon as she is given up there she will be placed in the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati trade again.

—Yesterday's Cincinnati "Gazette" says: The sale of the tow-boat J. W. Garrett and barges, yesterday morning, was well attended. The bidding was spirited, those bidding generally raising the previous bid fifty dollars at a time. The J. W. Garrett and barges Ruth and Rachel were first knocked off to Capt. Ed. Hornbrook, of Wheeling, for $13,425. The barge A. J. Brookbank was purchased by the Marine Railway Company for $4,150. The barge Alf. Korte was sold to Capt. Ed. Hornbrook for $3,650. Barge No. 13 was purchased by Val. P. Collins for $650. All of the above barges are loaded with ore, to be delivered at Wheeling, at $4 per ton, from this point, and the profit to be made out of the delivery accrues to the purchasers. The following amounts of ore are on board the barges: Ruth and Rachael, 700 tons; H. J. Brookbank, 500 tons; Alf. Korte, 450 tons; No. 13, 250 tons. Total, 1,900 tons. For which the purchasers will receive $7,600. Total amount of purchase money, $21,875.

—The Madison Courier says: "A ludicrous mistake, which may result in making a certain popular packet clerk bald-headed before he is many days older, occurred yesterday. The said clerk, wishing to show his kind feeling for a young lady friend, who was about to enter the blissful state of matrimony, purchased a handsome cake, and had it snugly packed in a cheese box, marked with his compliments. On the boat the same trip was a box of spoiled cheese, ordered by a party here for fish bait. By some mistake the wrong box was sent to the bride! That unfortunate clerk can not now find a hole small enough to crawl into when the boat lands at that town.

—Some fellow writes: Some darkies are far from white, but the blackest nigger I ever saw was on board of a steamboat, a few years ago; I watched him polish about ten pairs of boots, to which he gave a beautiful "shine," but I was puzzled to know how he did it; he did'nt use blacking at all. Finally, after watching him very closely, I saw he was so intensely black, that when he spit on his brushes, he spit black.

—Walter writes from Cairo: Pilot Mike Kelley, who came out on the John Means, reports a dangerous log in Thompson's Bend, close on to shore. The Atlantic struck it a terrible welt with one of her barges, but fortunately did not sink it. She has three barges for New Orleans, containing 50,000 bushels bulk grain.

—T. P. Leathers, J. W. Cannon and George H. Kirk sent the following telegram to E. Conery, New Orleans: "Convention adjourned; perfect success. Pittsburgh, Louisville, Cincinnati, Evansville, St. Louis and New Orleans combined. All settled to satisfaction of every one."

—The following pilots went down on the Commonwealth from St. Louis to look at the river: Sam. P. Jones, E. Y. Handlin, John Emory and Alf. Jolly of Cincinnati, James Rafferty, John Stafford, and R. Holden of Pittsburgh, and Isaac Brown and Wm Underwood of New Albany or Madison, Ind.

—At the auction sale of steamboat machinery, at Cincinnati, on Wednesday, Arthur Moore bought all the machinery of the Allegheny Belle No. 4 for $1,800, and C. T. Dumont that of the Wild Wagoner for $435.

—A colony of negroes is said to be fitting out at Bismarck for the Black Hills, on the assumption that the Black Hills ought to be the place for darkies.

—The Juniata arrived at Cincinnati on Thursday. It is safe to infer that she had but little difficulty after passing below Wheeling.

—The steamer Melamora was sold by the Marshal, at Osage City, Mo., on Tuesday, for $1,400. Her recent repairs cost much more.

—Captain Beltzhoover, an old steamboatman, but now President of the Birmingham Passenger Railway, was in St. Louis on Wednesday.

—The Esperanza will load at Cincinnati for New Orleans.

HOME NEWS.

Brought to Grief.

In the Criminal Court yesterday George F. McGowan was placed on trial for perjury. It is alleged that he went bail for half a dozen parties in different amounts aggregating six thousand dollar, at which time he made oath that he owned thirteen thousand dollars of real estate unincumbered, except a mortgage of one thousand dollars. His case is still on trial.

Arranging for the Centennial.

Ex-Governor Bigler, of the United States Centennial Exposition Committee, was in the city yesterday completing arrangements for the part that Pittsburgh is to take in the Exposition, and also to further its finances. To attend to the interests of the enterprise here he appointed Mr. B. F. Brown as general agent, to be assisted by the following committee: Messrs. C. W. Batchelor, Joseph Walton, Josiah King, Jas. P. Barr, J. M. Brush, J. H. Hopkins, R. M. Snodgrass, J. G. Siebeneck, Ormsby Phillips, Malcolm Hay.

The Election Proclamation.

An item of considerable interest to voters—the Election Proclamation from Sheriff Hare—will be found on the second page of this morning's paper. It will repay attentive perusal inasmuch as the new election law has rendered necessary a sub-division of many precints, and the establishment of new voting places. The Proclamation is arranged in neat and systematic shape, so as to be easily and clearly understood—for which Chief Clerk Cluley is entitled to a word of credit, though extended praise is not needed in a direction where business is always well done.

The Suicide in the Lock-up.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Kelley, husband of Mrs. Kelley, who committed suicide in the Allegheny lock-up on Thursday morning, arrived in Allegheny from Youngstown, Ohio, where he had been working. The first information he had in regard to his wife's committing suicide was from a newspaper which he bought on the train while on his way here. He was thunderstruck, as he had sent his wife some money only a few days before, for her to pay her way to come to him. On arriving in the city he at once called on Mr. McGonnigle, Secretary of the Poor Board, to ascertain the whereabouts of his two children.

Ex-Governor Pierpont in the City.

Hon. Frank Pierpont, ex-Governor of Virginia, has been spending a few days in this city, the guest of his friend, Mr. Wm. Rinehart. During his stay a number of our citizens called on him to pay their respects. He visited a number of our institutions. It was our good fortune, with others, to spend an evening with him at the Pennsylvania Reform School, which he was induced to visit and address the inmates in their several school rooms, manifesting in his remarks a strong sympathy for the unfortunate youths of both sexes, and giving them much excellent counsel. He was strongly impressed by the order, discipline and efficiency of the school in its reformatory work. After supper the visitors spent a most agreeable interval in the library of the Superintendent, where the Governor entertained the visitors by narrating a number of incidents connected with his administration in Virginia during the war, some of them of thrilling interest. None of all our Governors during the years of the rebellion encountered more difficulties, or overcome them more promptly and effectually than Governor Pierpont. Every drop of his blood was loyal to the Union, and he was a terror to the evil-doers by whom he was beset on every side. We are glad to notice that he enjoys vigorous health. We suppose his age to be about sixty. He is of very genial manners, abounding in social amenities, and displays fine conversational powers. The record of his official life will be a bright page in the annals of our country. Long may he live to enjoy his well earned honors, and the abiding respect of his cotemporaries.

NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS.

Dr. Wallace Made the Republican Candidate in the Twenty-fourth District.

Yesterday the Congressional Conferees of the Twenty-fourth District, composed of Beaver, Washington and Lawrence counties, held another and a final meeting at the Union Depot Hotel. At the meetings held previously, five hundred and nine ballots had been taken without a choice. Yesterday, after coming to order, a ballot was taken, but the result was the same as before, the conferees from each county voting for their own candidate. On the next ballot the delegates from Washington county voted for Mr. Critchlow, of Beaver, while the Beaver conferees united with those from Lawrence county, and voted for Dr. J. H. Wallace, thus securing his nomination, which was afterward made unanimous.

AN ALLEGED COUNTERFEITER.

He is Committed to Jail to await Trial.

Yesterday morning in the United States District Court, Henry Sweet was brought before Judge McCandless on a charge of passing counterfeit money. It will be remembered by our readers that one of the Titusville Banks was victimized some months ago by a person who passed a United States currency note of the denomination of $500 at the above institution. This individuel was supposed to be said Sweet, but he escaped the watchful eye of the officers and evaded being arrested. At the September term of Court, 1873, he was indicted for passing counterfeit money, and since that time agents of the Secret Service have been on the lookout for him. He recently surrendered himself to the officers at New York, and has been brought to this city for trial. His bail was fixed at $10,000, in default of which he was committed to jail. The prisoner is about sixty years of age, small in stature, and has a pleasing air about him. His case will be one of much interest when called for trial.

THE RACES.

Closing Day at the Pittsburgh Driving Park—The Result.

Yesterday was the last day of the races at McKee's Rocks, and everything passed off satisfactorially. Fine weather brought out a large crowd of people, who seemed delighted with the final results. In the 2:40 race which was left uncompleted the day before, Mary Taylor came off victor in two straight heats. Time 2:35—2:37½. In the 2:30 contest Jack Draper was the winning horse, taking the last heat. Time 2:30.

The race billed for the afternoon was for horses who had never beaten 2:26, for a purse of $1,000. There were six entries, but only five started—Belle Brasfield being withdrawn. The contest was splendid and met the expectations of those who were looking for a fine race. Lady Mack won the race, Jack Draper taking second money and Catharaugus Chief third. The following is the summary:

Catharaugus Chief	3	3	3	4	0
Ohio Boy	4	4	4	2	0
Jack Draper	1	1	2	4	4
Jerome	5	5	5	5	3
Lady Mack	2	2	1	1	1

Time.....2:31½, 2:32½, 2:31¼, 2:32, 2:34.

In the last heat Catharaugus Chief and Ohio Boy came in together, and in order to give satisfaction in this case, the judges decided it a draw. Thus ended the Fall meeting of the Pittsburgh Driving Park, and it was a decided success.

STREET MATTERS.

Short Session of the Committee Last Night.

A brief session of the Street Committee was held last evening in Municipal Hall, Mr. S. P. Fulton in the chair.

The following resolutions, prepared by the City Attorney and presented by Clerk Booth, were adopted and recommended to Councils for passage:

Resolved, That before any bond of indemnity be filed for the opening, grading or regrading of any street, lane or alley in the city, the Board of Viewers shall carefully examine into the matter and report to the Street Committee the probable amount of damages that will result from such opening, grading or regrading, and whether there will be property sufficiently benefitted to pay such damages, and upon the information thus received shall the filing of the bond and the amount thereof be determined.

Resolved, That the Board of Viewers be and they are hereby directed to inquire into the question of the probable amount of damages by reason of the proposed opening of Grandview avenue, and also the probable cost of grading, paving and curbing, and whether the same will be covered by benefits, and to report the same to this committee at their next meeting, and that the Mayor be directed to withhold the filing of the city bond until this Committee again direct him to file it.

A similar resolution was passed in regard to Second avenue, Locust street, Brownsville avenue and Hill street, and another was adopted directing the Mayor to file the bond of the city for the idemnification of parties damaged by the grading of Carson street, South Side.

Adjourned to meet again next Thursday evening.

Furs, Furs, Furs.

Fleming & Oglevee will have ready for sale one of the finest stock of furs ever opened in the market on and after Tuesday, the 13th inst.

A GREAT BUSINESS HOUSE.

A Visit to Semple's—His Business Methods—Departments—Variety of Goods—Low Prices and One Price—A Sight Worth Seeing.

There is wisdom, as well as happiness, in knowing what is doing around us. The person who shuts himself or herself up to a narrow round of life, affording the mind no variety, and the senses no relaxation, becomes dull, and narrow, and prematurely old. The stupidity of the Orientals is partially attributable to the pertinacity with which they follow the habits and customs of their ancestors, and cling to modes of life that are uneventful and dull. Ours is a go-ahead, active people, and one evidence of its vigor is seen in the readiness displayed to investigate everything that may be thought worthy of close attention. Those who are thus inspired, we wish to invite to an examination of the Business House of William Semple, in Allegheny, which, for many reasons, is worthy of inspection. It is a very successful house, that has grown from small beginnings to be a mammoth institution of its kind. It is perfectly systematized, though the business embraces a great diversity of articles. It has been evenly successful through all the hard time, or, as the proprietor puts it, "has not known hard times" during and since the panic. It is a one price store to which a child may go and purchase as cheaply as an expert; and in which a child of fair intelligence can act as clerk as excellently as an adult. It thus illustrates the qualities of straight-forwardness, and honesty, along with the thrift of economy,—the child clerk being the less expensive. And last, but not least, it is a cheap store, in the sense that for the quality of goods offered, the prices are unvaryingly low. There are no claims of an extravagant, and unbusiness like character set up, however. The house is never in a panic, "selling below cost," "closing out in thirty days at a ruinous sacrifice," and the like. It is conducted without waste, and for cash. Hence there are no losses to repair, or leakages to remedy, and as goods are bought for cash, and shrewdly bought, for Mr. Semple has in himself the Scotch shrewdness that keeps down to hard facts and close estimates, they are put at low figures, while yielding a profit.

Our readers may not appreciate from this mere statement how much force there is in these remarks. We were shown some imported silks that would make our lady friends willing to forego many another comfort to have a dress from, which cost the importer $4.25 gold per yard, and which Mr. Semple offers at $3 currency per yard, and asked by what means he knew of or reached such bargains. It was explained that manufacturers had sent before and since the panic vast quantities of goods here for a market. The falling off in the demand left them uncalled for, and eventually orders were sent to close them out. Prices, of course, could not be considered. The agents, knowing the capacity of different large establishments in the several great cities of the country, would telegram a brief description of goods, and the price at which they offered them. If accepted, they are forwarded at once. This system brings him intelligence of any goods in the Eastern market that are worth having, and are offered at a sacrifice. The damaged trash that is often advertised as sold so low is not the kind of material in which Mr. Semple deals. Goods, prices and representations are all bona fide.

PRESENT LOW PRICES.

We are keeping our readers at the threshhold longer than we should, but we venture to detain them a moment longer while we assure them that silks, poplins, alapacas, and particularly muslins and prints, were never so low, Mr. Semple informed us, since he had been in the business, as they are now. However it may be elsewhere, and whatever the reason which in particular cases, will account for it, we were abundantly convinced of this, by a careful examination of the several classes of goods thus represented. So surprisingly low are the goods referred to, whether the grade of the goods be high or low, the quality coarse or fine, that we unhesitatingly advise our readers, if they can possibly command the means, to lay in a supply of muslins at the least, and other goods, if possible, to last them for years. In the nature of things, with the Spring, these low prices will, in a measure, pass away, not to return for many years. We cannot imagine how goods can well be cheaper. We do not state prices and qualities, lest we be deemed unreasonable. In putting this so strongly we have violated Mr. Semple's injunction not to represent anything very strongly, but we give our opinion just as it is, and the statement of Mr. Semple that the goods mentioned were never so low since he has been in business.

THE STORE.

We have no purpose to describe the building Mr. Semple devotes to his business. It is five stories high, and all the space is utilized. The first floor is divided into three parts, or aisles, by two rows of columns, and in each of these is a department, there being four in all on the first floor. Department A is in the first aisle to the right; department B in the centre aisle; department C first aisle to the left; and department D the two aisles in the rear of the store. At first, when one enters, if he be a stranger, there is an appearance of confusion, because of the number of persons present; but in a moment a quick-eyed director observes you, inquires your wishes, and politely directs you to the department where the goods you inquire for may be found. Each of these departments is complete in itself. It has a director, clerks, its particular line of goods, its accounts, and its head is held responsible for its successful management. It receives and is charged with goods from the wholesale department, just as if it were an outside dealer, and is credited with its cash. Every six months the balance is struck, and the standing of the department ascertained. If there is a lack of success, the reason is rigidly inquired after. This is a system of rigid accountability, and each stands or falls on his own merit. This leads to close attention to business. Let us add that the second floor is devoted to ladies' goods and domestic goods, the third floor to carpets and oil cloths and the like, the fourth and fifth floors to wholesale purposes, and the basement to house-furnishing goods, and we have an idea of the store.

DISPLAY OF GOODS.

Let us now examine the goods in these departments. The term cheap as applied to houses is so apt to convey the idea that the goods offered are of low grade only, that we wish to distinctly state that while there are here goods to meet the wishes of those who must dress plainly and cheaply, there are also goods to meet the wishes and tastes of those who seek only the best, and most elaborate. In department A, Mr. Semple claims to have a larger and finer class of dress goods and silks than he has ever before offered,—ranging from the best silks to the finest grades of Italian goods, and at prices ranging from one dollar to five dollars per yard. He has also fancy dress silks of all shades, silk poplins, congees of best grade. Also a fine line of the best quality of cashmeres, of varied colors. Childrens' dress goods of all qualities and colors, and suited to all ages, may be found here. Mourning dress goods, black mohair, alpaca,—a full and complete line at one-third under usual retail prices. Also, large lot of medium priced dress goods, at prices ranging from 12½ to 25 cents per yard.

A feature of this department that may be of special interest to our lady friends, and that has become very popular, is that of suits, embracing the novelties of Eastern make, and those manufactured in the building. The latest patterns from Vienna and Paris are promptly secured, and the goods are cut, trimmed and made up to conform to the best and latest styles, at prices far lower, and with work far better than can be had at the East. We were shown ladies' dresses, of fine material and most elaborate make, the price of which was $30, and informed that such goods would cost $50 in New York. This has grown to be a large feature in the business of Mr. Semple. Forty-five sewing machines are kept constantly busy, and he has room for a dozen expert lady workers, a professional cutter is employed, work is rigidly inspected, and satisfaction made certain. As giving some idea of the popularity of this feature we may say that not only are the best dresses taken as fast as made, but seven are ordered and paid for that are yet to be made.

Ladies' saques, jackets, cloaks for the old, and everything new and desirable in beaded goods or in plain style, in full supply. We were shown some beautiful specimens of beaded goods, and informed while admiring them, that goods of far greater beauty were then on their way to the store. Fine qualities of Childrens' cloaks, at prices ranging from $4 to $20, on hand. This is but a brief outline, a mere mention of an article here and there, in the midst of an ample supply of all that can be thought of as pertaining to a department in which such articles belong. We may add, however, that in the shawl department, all the novelties in woolen, cashmere, Paisley, and mourning shawls can be found. Prices, of course, very low.

In the department for men and boys' wear, there is an unusually complete assortment—if the term "unusual" can be made to apply where all departments are full. Cassimeres, cloths, jeans and tweeds, from the lowest to the best in quality, and at prices in accord with the reputation of this house. In the line of flannel and blankets, a supply is in store equal to that of any house in the United States. This includes double-width country-barred flannel, at twenty-five cents per yard, best quality country plain, colored, fine white and Saxony barred, the best imported; flannels at low prices. This department is so complete and prices such as to deserve especial attention.

Water-proof goods, in nobby colors and in great variety. We have already referred to the full supply and low price of muslins. Prints range as low as 8 1-2 cents per yard.

DEPARTMENT D.

A specialty is also made of Millinery and Fancy Goods, if specialty can be said to be made of any one thing where every department, and every feature in it is complete and full. The latest styles and shapes in Ladies' and Misses' Hats and Bonnets, trimmed and untrimmed, are constantly on hand. A trimming department is associated with this, the third floor being provided with a room where tasty milliners attend to the work of trimming the bonnets and hats ordered. Flowers, scarfs, ribbons and the like are here in profusion.

DEPARTMENT C.

Is fitted up with goods, a portion of which will be found enchanting to the young. If Santa Claus has not emptied his treasures there, appearances are very deceiving. But articles of use, and gentlemen's furnishing goods, are a feature of this department. Whatever the tastiest young man may need to properly fit him for his wedding occasion, so far as furnishing goods go, may be had here; or whatever the sturdiest farmer may require to protect him from the chill winds of Autumn, or blasts of Winter, abound here cheap and excellent.

DEPARTMENT B.

includes table damasks, linens, checks, prints, chintzs, towelings, and muslins of which we have already spoken.

On the second floor are furs ready in season, white good, blankets, mattresses, pillows, and a great variety of articles of this nature, that serve to suggest how readily housekeeping may be arranged for by a visit to this place. Here a great variety of ladies' skirts and suits may be seen. One of satteen, price $31, was very beautiful. In the display of shawls, the remark was thrown in by Mr. Semple, that shawls that last year sold for $10 and $12 can now be had for $5, owing to a change of fashion.

On the third floor are carpets, from ingrain to Brussels, oil cloths, mattings, rugs, blinds, and all that pertains to this department of goods. In this, Mr. Semple has not gone to his usual bound,—he does not make up the goods, or have carpets sewed and put down. He simply sells. It seems a little peculiar, where in all other departments the most absolute completeness is, to see any thing short of it here. The secret, we fancy, may be found in the fact that the putting down can not be controlled sufficiently well as can other things that are under his systematic eye.

The fourth and fifth floors are devoted to wholesale purposes,—and the fifth, in part, to packing and boxing. Here the country merchant can come and obtain a complete supply of goods, far cheaper than he can buy and bring from the East. Here the retail departments of his own store come and purchase to replenish their stock, at the close of each day. Here is the spring that supplies the fountains below that so steadily send out their stream of goods. Here is the central wheel that runs the entire establishment. But the motive power is a plainly dressed, silver-haired, black whiskered man, of kindly yet resolute countenance, who will always know you and call you by name after he has heard it once, and who, though he does not look it, is a man whose clearness of mind, grasp of intellect, and methods of order would enable him to manage an empire as easily as he does his great business.

If you have never visited his store, and do not know what it is, whether you wish to buy or not, call, and say the GAZETTE invited you, and we guarantee you a cordial welcome.

A WORD OF COUNSEL.

The Pipe Line Ordinance—It Ought to Promptly Pass.

The readiness with which the Pipe Line Ordinance passed Common Council, does not entirely relieve its friends of anxiety concerning its fate in Select Council. We do not share these anxieties, as we can not imagine a reason why there should be any hesitancy in completing the work begun. We do not propose here to go into the scope and extent of the business. Pittsburgh needs to have a policy as regards its own welfare, such as will contribute to its growth and vigor. It is an error to suppose that because we take measures to make two railroads that may touch our city, competing roads, that we injure one or the other. Competition is the life of trade, and nearly universal experience confirms the idea that as a rule, competition benefits, rather than injures.

Pittsburgh has natural advantages that ought to gather to her a larger population than Cleveland or Cincinnati possess. Her coal, which concentrates here great iron manufactories; her river, which gives her advantages equal to Cincinnati for cheap communication South and West; her oil supply, that is within thirty miles of us, and her intercourse East, by which three seaboard shipping points may be easily reached, should give her a population far in excess of what she has.

The influence of such a population on her interests would be manifold. We are all interested in the matter of taxes. The larger the population, the less per capita taxes would be. This would be of advantage to the poor. Such a population would be a stimulus to commercial activity, thus benefiting our merchant classes. That it would contribute to the advantage of all other forms of trade is so obvious that to mention it is to suggest the manner in which it would develop. What hinders all this? Our slowness in fostering industries by removing obstacles out of the way. Other cities have been more wise. They have rather promoted than hindered the prosperity of their citizens, even, in instances, making outlays of money to this end.

Why should the oil refiners be impeded in prosecuting their business? Particularly, is there any reason why Councils should impede them? They are respectable citizens, their trade is legitimate, their calling honorable, and their business will contribute to the wealth of the city. There are, indeed, few forms of business which so regularly and constantly benefit the community in which they are carried on, as that of oil refining. It is not a speculative business, as many imagine. It simply consists in refining the crude oil, and charging a given advance on cost of the crude, and the expense of refining. Rates of cost and profit are fixed, clearly and closely. The cost of all the departments of refining is also fixed, and the revenue that will come to the city, being disbursed through different channels, is definately fixed at so much per barrel. It is thus, a fixed, legitimate business. The more it is enlarged, the greater the benefit to the city. Certainly, it would be folly to drive such a business away from us.

This is simply the proposition that will come before Select Council, and the people are enough aroused to the importance of this subject to be alert as to the action taken. We have rarely known so much interest to be taken in a subject of the kind as in this. Our iron manufacturer, businesss men and even many laborers have given earnest attention to the subject, and we have the means of knowing that the drsire is general that the ordinance should be passed. We cannot imagine, and will not do the Select Council the disrespect of intimating that it will do otherwise than ratify the action of the Common branch.

Ladies' Furs.

The past cold mornings and evenings bring to mind the fact that winter is fast approaching, and in consequence of the fact Messrs. Fleming & Oglevee, 139 Wood street, are now arranging and making one of the finest purchases of furs ever brought to this market, and will be ready to offer the same to the public on Tuesday, October 13.

For variety of style and elegance of goods, their present stock far surpasses anything ever brought to this market. The stock consists in part of Ladies' Seal Sacques in large quantities, Muffs, Boas, and Caps in all the different grades. Russian Sable in Collars and Muffs. Black Lynx and Martin in Boas and Muffs, Beaver, Otter &c., in full sets.

Mink Sable in Muffs, Collars, Boas, Berthas, Talmas, and Cloaks; also large variety in medium grades of goods. 2

Health, Comfort and Profit.

The above essentials are the undoubted result of the purchase of boots and shoes manufactured by Wm. Martin, No. 108 Federal street, Allegheny City. He keeps on hand and makes to order a very superior quality of boots and shoes, being first class in material and workmanship. Boots and shoes are only cheap, when the best quality is purchased at a reasonable price. A low grade or cheap quality of boot or shoe is dear at any price.

New Goods—Late Styles—Low Prices.

A very fine and choice selection of cloths, cassimeres and vestings has been secured for the Fall trade by Mr. B. Tiegel, No. 53 Smithfield street. A complete stock, excellent qualities and fashionable patterns of the newest and latest styles, assures his patrons of entire sati faction in their selections. Call and examine Tiegel's elegant stock of suitings now in store, and let him take your dimensions for one of his neat fitting suits.

Elegant Furniture.

Messrs. A. Ortleib & Co., No. 92 Diamond street, Pitttsburgh, have a new and elegant assortment of all styles of furniture which they are offering at great bargains. Call and examine.

The pastor will preach to-morrow morning on the subject, "Believers Complete in Christ," and in the evening a sermon to young men on "The Hopeful Beginning and Sorrowful Ending."

THE doctors once again disagree. The Advocate pooh-poohs Dr. Holland's article in Scribner's on "The Average Prayer-meeting," and the Recorder hears "of one prayer-meeting provoked to new life by the reading thereto, by the pastor, of Dr. Holland's article on 'The Average Prayer-meeting,' in a recent Scribner. Such a thing as that is a good thing once in a while."

SEVERAL of the newspapers are warning ministers against going into the lecture field, giving reasons and describing the danger. But it is hardly necessary. Only a few will be accepted at best as professionals, and the sporadic lecturer does not find the business so profitable as to be bewitched by it. Ministers, as a rule, are too intelligent and well balanced to reach the inanities of the popular lecturer.—United Presbyterian.

THE Second United Presbyterian Church, Sixth avenue, Pittsburgh, having been closed three months for repairs, will be re-opened to-day (Saturday) at 3 P. M. Services to-morrow (Sabbath) at 10 A. Special meetings in this church have been continued during the week, with additional conversions. The meetings here have given a practical examplification of Christian Unity, in that the pastor has been frequently assisted by ministers from other denominations.

REV. WM. YOUNG, pastor of the First Reformed Presbyterian church, corner of Liberty street and Cherry alley, will preach to-morrow morning, at 10:30 o'clock, on "The Presumptuous crime and dreadful punishment of King Uzziah," and in the afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, on "Paul's prayer to God for the sanctification of his Thessalonian brethren." Strangers always welcome. Young men and young women are cordially invited to attend. A portion of inspired Psalmody is explained every Sabbath morning in regular order.

REV. DR. DEMPSEY and Rev. Mr. Patterson are to debate the following question at New Galilee, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway, on the fourth Tuesday of October: "Are Secret Oath-Bound Associations Incompatible with the Christian Religion and Republican Form of Government?" Mr. Patterson affirms, and Dr. Dempsey denies. The debate is to be held in the U. P. Church, in New Galilee, and to continue two days. Dr. Dempsey is a Mason, and nothing seems to more fully awaken him than a square tussle on the interesting theme.

A MEETING for rail-road men will be held to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon in the new smith shop of the P. Ft. W. & C. Ry. (Outer depot, Allegheny city) commencing at 3.30 P. M. Meeting will be conducted under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. of this city and will be adressed by rail-road men from Cleveland, O., and Erie, Pa. At night two meetings of the same character will be held in that part of Allegheny city, one in the Union M. E. Church, corner of Pennsylvania and Manhattan avenues, the place for the other meeting to be announced at the meeting in the rail road shop. An invitation is extended to all, especially to rail-road men and their families.

SOMETIMES the most tender impressions of a Sabbath-day service are dispelled by a few careless words in the aisle after the sermon. All the spiritual influence which God's servant groaned in mind to have the people possess, is quickly put to flight by a bit of senseless gossip on the way out. How much better if the lips would keep closed or only open to some word of praise or good counsel. The younger members of the congregation readily fall in with the example set them by their elders in this respect. Let all remember a due reverence for God's house and day, and emphasize by every action, the word of His messenger who comes to them statedly in God's name.—Methodist Recorder.

MEAGRE FINANCES.

The Water Committee Devising Means to Raise Money to Run the Old Works.

The Water Committee met in special session last evening, Mr. Hunter in the chair. The meeting was called to devise means whereby the expenses incurred in the future may be met.

A communication from Controller Snodgrass was read, stating that the appropriation made by Councils to defray the expenses of the old Water Works had been so drawn upon that only $315 are left.

The document was received and filed, and Mr. Meyran submitted the following:

WHEREAS, The funds of the Water Committee have been nearly exhausted and no funds being in the Treasury to pay for coal, labor, and materials to keep the three pumping works going until February, therefore

Resolved, That $25,000 be taken from the Water Extension fund until that amount can be replaced by future appropriation, and that Councils be requested to pass an ordinance to this effect. Adopted.

A warrant was ordered to be drawn in favor of Wm. Thompson for $80.70, his name not having been placed on the last pay roll.

Water Extension business being next taken up Mr. Aull stated that the contractor for the Miller pavement on Lincoln avenue would soon be prepared to commence laying it between Spring street and the bridge, and he thought it would be advisable to have the water pipe laid before the work of paving is commenced. He concluded by presenting a resolution comprising the gist of his remarks, and also including Clay street, from Forty-eighth to Forty-ninth streets, and it was passed.

A motion by Mr. Aull that hereafter the Committee shall meet in the Common Council chamber when it has Water Extension business to attend to was passed and the session adjourned.

A few days ago we clipped from the Monongahela Republican and published a news item to the effect that a soldier of their acquaintance of the late war had been left $50,000 in Government bonds by a man whose life he had saved in a hospital where both parties were for a time during the rebellion. We are in receipt of the following to be published in connection with it. It is mysterious, but the party refuses at this time to say any thing more:

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION—A HOSPITAL AND THE WHOLE OF WARRENTOWN NEARLY BLOWN UP.

Upon a certain well known evening a large concourse of people met at Warrentown for the purpose of attending a Republican meeting; and it having become pretty late in the night when the assembly adjourned, the party found it necessary and, unanimously agreed, to spend the remainder of the night at the meeting place. But as they had not fully turned off the gas lights, to light a match would inevitably have resulted in a fearful explosion; all would have perished had it not been for good young Billy! He was awakened from his sleep by apparent sounds of frogs, and upon looking to his friends, he found them in convulsions; their heads burned with fever, and they were coughing fearfully; some complained of seeming attacks of the cholera, whilst others complained of frost and fever. Billy listened to their meanings for awhile, but as he was not a doctor, he could not do anything and therefore again laid down, but could not sleep. Whilst he was thus trying to go asleep, he heard the whistling of imaginary birds, and immediately regarded it as the omen of God! His friends were crying for help, as they would perish if not helped soon. He heard their cries, jumped up, took two pieces of wet bread, laid one piece on the back of his head and under his nose, drank a cup of salt water, and after wrapping some wet cloth around his head, he grappled in the dark for the gas pipe. This he found and turned off the gas fully! In the morning his friends were there with bloodshot eyes, some half dead from the fever and cholera; others had lost their senses for a time from the effects of the gas. Some people said that it had been the strangers who came from Wheeling, and intended to blow up the whole of Watertown; others said a band of robbers who have been playing their vocations there for the last twelve years, had tried to explode the place for the purpose of robbing the strangers of their estates in the different counties and States. After all had improved, they got in their carriages and rode off—waiving their handkerchiefs and giving three hearty cheers for Billy.

Billy is a well-known citizen. THS.

[From the Springfield Union.]

The American Agriculturist gives some good advice to farmers, in the September number, when it warns them of their liability to get cheated when they sell or buy "by guess;" and tells them that a Fairbanks platform scale on the floor of every barn, to the test of which everything can be brought, would pay for itself in a short time, and produce a great deal of satisfaction besides. We know whereof we affirm, when we say this is good advice, for though people might not think it, there is occasion for a good deal of weighing in the Union office, and our "Fairbanks," which has lately taken the place of an old "Howe" scale, is in hourly requisition,—always ready and right. That these scales are generally recognized as the standard, and preferred to any other, is shown by the fact that the business of manufacturing them at the factory in St. Johnsbury, Vt., has been larger during the last year of panic and dullness than ever before, and that Messrs. Fairbanks & Co. are now far behind their orders. Last week they manufactured 800 scales, including 78 large hay, stock and railroad scales, and that will probably be about their average during the Fall.

The Best of Oysters and Fresh Fish.

The most palatable and healthy luxury is that of oysters and fresh fish, and parties who wish really fine, fat and healthy oysters, can procure the best in the market, by the can, quart or gallon, at the very lowest figures, by calling on Mr. B. Pulpress, No. 45 Diamond Market, or corner of Ohio and Federal streets, Allegheny. Mr. Pulpress is justly entitled to the appellation of the King Oysterman, as this bi-valve is kept by him in unsurpassed excellence, size and flavor. Orders for fish or oysters will receive as careful attention as if parties purchased in person. Facilities for supplying parties, either by wholesale or retail, are such that complete satisfaction may be expected.

It is Not True!

There seems to be an opinion prevalent with some persons that there will be a further postponement of the Library Concert. There is no ground for this idea. We speak ex-cathedra when we say that Governor Bramlette informs us, and through us the public, that the drawing will take place on the 30th of November as surely as that day will arrive in the calendar. Those who wish to partake of the benefits of the gifts, or to add their mite to the success of the great Library, should not delay an hour to become shareholders in the grandest enterprise ever offered to the public in this or any other country.

Serviceable, Durable and Cheap.

Mr. Thomas Davage, of No. 57 First avenue, who is well-known among railroad and steamboatmen for the excellence and durability of his manufactures, calls the especial attention of his old customers and the public generally, to the fact that he is now manufacturing a very superior style of block, known as the inside iron-strapped block, which is pronounced by all who have used it to be the perfection of blocks. He also manufactures to order all other styles of blocks in use on steamboats and railroads, and pumps for barges and boats of the best material that can possibly be procured. Patronize honest workmanship.

Take Care of the Dimes, &c.

Prudent Benjamin said, "Take care of the pence, and the pounds will take care of themselves," and when this was said he had in his mind's eye the inducements offered by some dealers to their customers. For instance, Mr. R. Taggart sells boots and shoes twenty per cent. cheaper (quality being equal) than any other shoe house in the two cities. To buy from him is to follow the advice of "Poor Richard" and put money in your purse. Seize the opportunity of buying boots and shoes at wholesale rates, and thus save money for a rainy day or a cheerless winter.

THE COURTS.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

State Supreme Court.

(Chief Justice Agnew Presiding.)

AN OIL CONTRACT.

B. W. Morgan and Sarah A. Morgan, partners under the name of B. W. Morgan & Co., plaintiffs in error and defendants below vs. John A. McKee, defendant in error. Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county. Argued by M. W. Acheson, Esq., for plaintiff in error, and A. M. Brown, Esq., contra. The history of this case is briefly as follows. Plaintiffs below made a contract with defendants below to deliver at Philadelphia 4,000 barrels of petroleum at so much a gallon. The oil to be delivered in monthly instalments of 500 barrels each, the delivery to commence in May, 1870. In accordance with this contract the oil was delivered in each month until September, when no oil was delivered, although duly demanded. Subsequently the defendants below refused to receive any more oil from the plaintiffs, considering the contract broken, and as a consequence the plaintiffs below brought suit against the defendants for damages in not accepting the oil under the contract. The Court below ruled in favor of the plaintiffs for their whole damages. The appeal is based on the ground that the contract was an entirety, and being broken on the part of the plaintiffs, they were not entitled to recover damages.

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY.

Frederick Altvater, plaintiff in error and defendant below, vs. F. Woods and Mary D. Woods in right of the latter, error to the District Court of Allegheny county, argued by Barton for plaintiff in error, and J. A. Emory and Wm. D. Moore contra. Mrs. Woods owns a lot on the corner of Fulton and Hopkins streets, Allegheny, and Altvater owns a lot running through from Hopkins to Page streets. The rear end of the Woods' lot is against the gate of the Altvater lot. In the summer of 1872 Altvater graded his lot, and in so doing the plaintiff claimed that he came so near the line between the lots that her chicken house, the fence across a part of the rear of the Woods' lot, and some shrubbery growing along the fence, fell and slid into Altvater's lot. Altvater claimed that he kept distant from the line four feet at the top, with a slope, making ten feet from the bottom; that he had a right to bring his own lot to the grade, using ordinary care, skill and caution; and that it was the duty of the adjoining owner to go to the expense of protecting his own building and fence while the improvement was going on. The Court, however, ruled against the defendant, and held that he was responsible for damage done to the adjoining lot. The jury found against him in the sum of $364, and to this ruling the defendant below and plaintiff above take exception and take out a writ of error.

A STONE CONTRACT.

Samuel Kennedy, plaintiff in error and defendant below, vs. Fred. Altvater and Joseph Marks, partner as Altvater & Co., for use of Joseph Marks. Error to the District Court of Allegheny county. Argued by Barton for plaintiff in error, and A. M. Brown, Esq., contra. Altvater & Co. are stone masons, and Kennedy is a quarryman. Altvater made a contract with Kennedy to furnish him a lot of tools for his stone quarry, and agreed to take stone in payment, at the commencement of building in the spring of 1872. The tools were furnished to Kennedy in February 1872. In the following March Altvater & Marks dissolved partnership, and Altvater agreed to sell out his interest to Marks, Marks to collect the accounts and pay off the debts. A difficulty shortly afterwards sprung up between Marks and Altvater, and a bill in equity was filed by Marks against him to compel the performance of this agreement of dissolution. In the spring of 1872, Altvater sent word to Kennedy to ship the stone, which he did. Kennedy brought in his bill for stone and Altvater made out his bill for the tools, and balanced and settled the account, and Altvater receipted the bill to Kennedy. Marks then brought this suit against Kennedy for the amount of the bill, in the name of the firm for his own use, and recovered a verdict for $178 21. Kennedy took out a writ of error, and claims that actual notice of a dissolution of a firm must be given to persons who have had dealings with it. Publication is not sufficient, even though the party is a subscriber to the paper.
